Each selection criterion consists of three elements: (i) the criterion itself, (ii) a minimum level/minimum requirement and (iii) the supporting documents. The selection criteria are not scored by the Contracting Authority. They are subject to a pass or fail assessment.

Technical and professional capacity criteria

Award criteria are related to the tenderer's state of art and the tender. They seek to evaluate both technical and professional capacity and the most important aspects required by the technical specifications defined in Annex B. The criteria include minimum thresholds that each tender should score per criterion and in total in order to be considered acceptable.

Tenderers should provide adequate information demonstrating their skills, expertise, human resources and significant documented experience. Specifically tenderers should have proven experience in providing promotion and advertising services for the agri-food business sector over the past five years (2016-2021).

Tenderers (in case of a joint tender the combined capacity of all members of the group and identified subcontractors) must comply with the criteria listed below.

a) Criteria relating to the tenderer (s) delivering the service:

Evidence: For all profiles listed in the above-mentioned criteria, the tenderer shall complete the relevant section of Submission Form (Annex E).

The tenderers must note that a statement alone, confirming that it understands the objectives of the contract and the work to be carried out, or a repetition of the tender specifications will not be considered as sufficient and will lead to a negative assessment and a major reduction of points under the respective criterion. If certain essential points of these specifications are not expressly covered by the tender, the Contracting Authority may decide to give a zero mark for the relevant quality award criteria.

The contract will be awarded based on the most economically advantageous offer, according to the 'best price-quality ratio' award method. The quality of the tender will be evaluated based on the below described criteria. The maximum total quality score is 100 points.

Award criterion 1: Technical and professional capacity (YES/NO)

This criterion assesses the capacity of tenderer to undertake the contract and concern the verification of criteria a) and b). If evidences requested do not meet the criteria or they are considered inadequate according to the judgement of the Committee the tender in concern will not pass to the next evaluation stage.

Award criterion 2: Quality of the proposed methodology (40 points - minimum score 50%)

This criterion will assess the quality and the efficiency of the proposed methodology taking into account the description of the services as well as the capacity of the tenderer. This will consider approaches and methods proposed to ensure smooth organization and management of the campaign and each activity covering all related aspects. Completeness is an element of this criterion. Details should be provided as part of the technical offer.

Award criterion 3: Organization of the work and resources, quality assurance (20 points - minimum score 50%)

This criterion will assess how the different economic operators (joint tenders, incl. subcontractors, if applicable) and the project team share responsibilities, roles, time and resources globally and for each identified task, and the back-up systems in order to be effective. This criterion will also assess the quality assurance mechanisms used to ensure timeliness, quality of the deliverables, the language Excellency and flexibility. Completeness is an element of this criterion. The criterion will also assess the approaches/methods proposed for ensuring efficient coordination between and with various parties involved (Contracting Authority and stakeholders, competent national and European authorities etc). Details should be provided as part of the technical tender.

Award Criterion 4: Efficiency and effectiveness of the actions (40 points - minimum score 50%)

This criterion will assess the methods, tools and indicators which will be used to measure the efficiency and the effectiveness of the actions carried out within the scope of the services. Quality, quantity and cost effectiveness shall be considered in the proposed measurement indicators. Details should be provided as part of the technical offer.

Price and Award Method

Only the tenders that have reached the technical quality thresholds announced for the quality award criteria will be subject to best price-quality assessment.

Ranking of tenders

The tender with the lowest price will be awarded 100 points. The other tenders will be awarded points on the basis of the following formula:

$$\text{Points} = (\text{lowest price}/\text{price of the bid in question}) \times 100$$

Calculation of the most economically advantageous tender on the basis of the best price/quality method:

In order to determine the most economically advantageous tender for the award of the contracts, a quality/price ratio of 80/20 will be applied to each tender in the following way:

Score for tender X = Lowest Price/Price for tender x 20% + total quality score (out of 100) for all quality award criteria of tender x 80%.

The Committee will draw up an Evaluation Protocol with the results of the procedure that will be submitted to the Board of Directors for final approval.

Informing the candidates / tenderers

The Committee will inform the candidates/tenderers (winner tenderer/tenderers, tenderers that have been rejected or unsuccessful tenderers) in written form, as soon as possible after the act of the Board of Directors about the decisions regarding the awarding of the contract.

In case of annulation of the procedure the Contracting Authorities will inform in written all the participants, from the date of annulment, both the ceasing of the obligations of the participants, created by submitting tenders, as well as the reason of the annulment.

Confidentiality

The Contracting Authorities shall not disclose the information provided by the economic operators indicated by them as confidential, including technical or commercial secrets and the confidential elements of the tenders.

Intellectual property rights

The ownership of the results and of all deliverables produced in the context of the contact is of the Contracting Authorities.

Appeals

Tenderers whose tenders are rejected either because they do not meet the requirements on the basis of the selection criteria or disagree with Committee's judgment and the outcome of the evaluation have the right to submit a written objection according to the provisions of national law.

Finalization of procurement - award of contract

ANNEX B – Description of Contract

Objectives

EUOrganicschool, aims to address the growing erosion of society's engagement with the food that it produces and consumes and the correlated need to strengthen this engagement on a more sustainable way. The market analysis in the two member states has framed the context clearly and the following assumptions can be extracted:

- Organic production is on the rise and demand for organic products is growing however they concern specific crops oriented for exports or staple foods (fruits and vegetables, milk, cereals) - Although in both markets the number of producers / processors / traders is among the highest ones in the world (Poland in 8th and Romania in 9th global position respectively) this is not translated in higher domestic consumption. - Still spending on organic products and per capita consumption is low and far below the EU average.

- Consumers behaviour toward organic is changing; recognition of logo has been elevated, perception on the environmental, social, and economic benefits associated with producing and consuming organic food is strengthen but still in inadequate.

- Ages of 25 to 44 year old are the consumers of organic products, mainly women, of middle or higher education and of middle or higher income with dependants. Their concerns on health (personal and their familiars) and environmental issues are the main driving motives for them to favour organic products. Based on the above the EUOrganicschool objective is to foster public awareness on organic production in Romania and Poland.

The objective is SMART as it has identified the SPECIFIC challenges to tackle and opportunities to build on. Furthermore it has specified the intervention area prioritizing target groups. The objective is MEASURABLE as it will result a) to the further increase by 5% of the recognition rate of the organic farming logo in each market and b) to double the annual per capita consumption in each market. These are ACHIEVABLE goals; both organizations are pioneers in the organic movement in both markets; their proven track on educating, networking, promoting the organic concept is undeniable. They have undertaken initiatives and activities of the same calibre in the past and have contributed to the growth achieved until today. With the EUOrganicschool initiative BioRomania and Ekologia acknowledge that the objective and expected results can be achieved. The objective is also REALISTIC since it is obvious that the moment is now; Covid-19 outbreak impact has definitely affected organic market; consumers in both markets are more concerned but organic consumption is low thus making it vulnerable. Organic movement may lose recognition, sales and affiliates (producers, traders, end users). Increasing public awareness will stimulate demand and increase consumption. Finally the objective is TIME BOUNDED: It sets milestones and foresees results to be achieved in annual base. It has a defined size of the target groups to be reached in activity level and finally set the bounds for the general objective to be achieved by the end of the project. The project 's objective is in line with the general objective of Reg. (EU) 1144/2014 as it is supporting the competitiveness of the organic sector in two member states. It is in full compliance with Regulation 's specific objectives (b) and (c) and it has been conceptualized based on the general and specific objectives of the call as it compatible with Regulation 's expected results and impact. It is also in full aligned with the Organic Action Plan of the European Commission and will contribute to its goals. In specific it is promoting organic farming and the EU logo (priority 1.1 Promoting organic farming and the EU logo) via specialized activities such as the EUOrganicschool meals and auto-vendors (priorities 1.2 Promoting organic canteens and increasing the use of green public procurement and priority 1.3 Reinforcing organic school schemes) engaging the private sector in the common goal (priority 1.6 The contribution of the private sector). Finally the project is in line with priority 2.1 (encouraging conversion, investment and exchange of best practices) and 2.4 (Reinforcing local and small-volume processing and fostering short trade circuit). The communication material of the project will make a reference to the Food-Based Dietary Guidelines in both Romania and Poland where operations are carried out which are represented in form of pyramid in Romania and a plate in Poland. For that purpose in case of graphic or messages concerning consumption of organic food products, these will be presented either in a pyramid or a plate according to the national food-based dietary guidelines.

Strategy

Modern agriculture is characterized by enormous productivity and efficiency, but often at the expense of the environment and the health of consumers. Due to the growing awareness, people are more and more willing or each for ecological products. However, organic production is not only about healthier and safer food. Organic farming is also a form of environmental protection and responsible management of naturalresources. Water, soil, biodiversity and landscape are just some of the elements of the environment that are constantly changing due to agricultural activities. In conventional agriculture, these activities often contribute to environmental degradation with serious consequences. One of the factors limiting the development of the organic food consumption is the low or inadequate public awareness and lack of knowledge about the role and importance of organic production and food over the past years. Given that the level of sustainability concerns is correlated and affects the intensity of organic consumption, the EUOrganicschool will highlight the environmental, social, and economic benefits associated with producing and consuming organic food. In this respect, the project intends to promote the sustainable approach, emphasizing that organic farming can provide multilayer positive externalities. In particular, the interest in organic products will be stimulated by focusing in this threefold sustainability characteristics using information, promotion and education tools on disseminating these social benefits that could be achieved by producing and consuming organic foods. Nevertheless according to the latest data (Eurobarometer 504 from 11.2020), there is a strong swift in the overall public awareness; Romania recorded one of the highest raise in the levels of recognition of organic logo (+42%) reaching 51% while the same can be said in the case of Poland were recognition skyrocketed to 70% (+41%). This is both a challenge and an opportunity for the project to address; at this historic moment in the verge of a pandemic where consumers globally and in the two markets look for more information on what sustainability means, seem to acknowledge the importance of organic farming and are in the course of reshaping their attitudes willing to embrace more organic products, the project will enhance this trend and enforce it, targeting:

- To the general public and specific women of 25-44 years old with dependents. Intensive social media publicity (via posting and videos), online and social media advertising, continuous PR activities (publication of ads) will be project 's public awareness stimulators. According to available data there are over 5M Romanians in this group²⁸ and 11.5M Poles.

- Children in first and second grade of education along with their teachers are the second target group. Youth is a group that in the near term will become fully-fledged and individual food consumers. However, they are not fully aware of what they buy and consume. They need to understand the sustainability notion and more over what organic farming stands for and the positive impact on environment, society and themselves and in addition direct their nutrition habits toward healthier pattern. Dedicated publicity via social media accounts (Facebook Fun page), tailored workshops for nutrition and environmental education, along with activities in schools (organic meals) and study trips, will are the instruments for that group. According to available data from the school scheme in Romania³⁰ there are over 1.7M children in primary and secondary schools all over the country; the number for Poland is 4.5M children in primary and secondary schools.

- Organic producers / processors / traders (8K in Romania and 20K in Poland) along with the professionals from retail, distribution and HORECA channels that are or want to be pro - organic, form another target group of the EUOrganicschool. The main instrument is the participation in trade fairs for approaching member of these groups but also they will be key stakeholders and promoters/multipliers of project 's messages as they will participate as suppliers in the tailored activities in schools (organic meals) and in the Bio festival that will take place in Y3.

- Finally, multipliers (journalists, chefs, experts and influencers) are the last but not least important target groups. The EUOrganicschool will address to them via press events and a great effort will be put for their participation / engagement during implementation of the other activities, enforcing our communication strategy and publicity.

The UNION MESSAGE is the EUOrganicschool, representing the three strands that the project is based on; a European initiative fostering public awareness on the organic production starting from school. The project is of generic format and no brands will be promoted. Provisions of Reg. (EU) 1831/2015 regarding origin, visibility of products under quality schemes and of brands will be respected in full. The —ENJOY IT 's FROM EUROPE signature will supplement Union 's message. The communication concept put sustainability on the spot as well as the organic farming logo; the latter will be visible and accompanying every material produced.
